

ASSEMBLY REPORT

Date:11.02.19

Deputy Director of Academic Department (Mr. Leong Min Zhi)

1. Today's topic for sharing is "Who limits our skies?"
2. There was a fried chicken hawker that was determined to make the tastiest fried chicken in the world. He worked hard, honed his skills diligently and received praise for his fried chicken.
3. A few years later, a certain customer returned and found that the fried chicken shop was no longer just a hawker stall but a restaurant. The customer praised the shopkeeper and declared the shopkeeper's fried chicken to be the best in the city. Nevertheless, the shopkeeper insists on making the tastiest fried chicken in the whole world.
4. Dreams are just dreams. What allowed the shopkeeper to keep progressing was his conviction and enthusiasm, turning dreams into ideals.
5. Setting a high standard for one's dreams is the best way to develop self-confidence.
6. Aiming high is better than achieving low standards, or not striving for excellence at all.
